1 MMS Overview

2 This document describes the Multimedia Messaging System (MMS)
 3 specification documents for 3GPP2. It provides references to the Stage 1
 4 (Requirements), Stage 2 (Functional Description), and one or more Stage
 5 3 (Technical Realization) documents that collectively represent the MMS
 6 specification for 3GPP2 systems.

7 The 3GPP2 MMS Specification is distributed within many documents,
 8 with a simple multi-level hierarchy, as depicted below:

9 Figure 1 - MMS Specification Hierarchy

10

12 The figure can be explained thusly: The MMS Stage 1 and MMS Stage 2
 13 define high-level requirements and functions/features, respectively,
 14 which apply to all technical realizations. The Stage 2 document also 15 specifies an abstract reference architecture, which should be consulted
 16 to understand the reference points MM1, MM3, MM4, and MM7.

1 There are several MMS Stage 3 specifications, for Addressing, MM3,
 2 MM4, and MM7, which are part of all current (and planned) technical
 3 realizations of the 3GPP2 MMS. Finally, there are several alternative
 4 Stage 3 technical realizations for MM1. The completeness of any one
 5 Stage 3 technical realization is independent of the other Stage 3s: while
 6 one may be complete within itself, others may be used in combination.

7 2 Document Reference List

8 The table below correlates the documents described above and their 9 publication references.
